The Claim Still Made That Ream is Holding On to His Wheat.

ONE DOLLAR EXPECTED FOR MAY

A Weak Undertone to Corn-Very Little Change in Cattle Prices-Hog Values Higher-General Quotations.

CHICAGO PRODUCE MARKET.

acted later.

The anal closings were as follows: Wheat firmer at 78½@78½c for December, 79c for January, 79½c for February, 80½c for March, 80½c for May. Corn firmer at 37c for December, 37¾c for January, 43½c for May. Oats dull at 26½c for December, 31c for May. Pork a shade higher at $11.00 for December, $11.27¾ for January, $11.40 for February. Lard steady at $6.10 for December, $6.15 for January.

CHICAGO LIVE STOCK.

CHICAGO, Dec. 10 .- [Special Telegram to the BEE,]-CATTLE-The cattle market is a bit stronger for certain desirable lots of fat handy cattle, but in a general way it is no better than on yesterday. There were many cattle left over from yesterday, including poorest to best, and the market for such stock was very bad indeed. Fresh receipts to-day were moderate, but the offerings of fresh and stale cattle were more than ample. Common cattle were of extremely slow sale and there were some for which no bids were received. STOCKS—Stocks displayed unusual weak-ness, the declines ranging in most cases from 1 to 6 per cent. Dealings were feverish and in the afternoon attended with considerable excitement. The most notable decline, how-ever, was in Richmond & West Point, its ex-treme loss being over 6 per cent, for which the monetary situation is entirely responsible. The opening was somewhat irregular but strong, the advances over last evening's final figures ranging from 1s to 1s per cent generally, while Richmond & West Point was up 1 per cent. The market was weak from the opening, and declines ranging up to 134 per cent were made in the first hour. In the afcent were made in the first hour. In the at-ternoon there was another decided break which lasted until 1:30. A period of com-parative dullness and strength followed, but in the last hour the decline was renewed, though the market closed on a slight rally feverish and unsettled at small fractions better than the lowest of the day.
